

Lunches at DIS 2008

Lunches are not included in the registration fee. As UCL is in central London, there are a number of places to go for lunch both on and around campus. Some suggestions are given below.

The most convenient option for lunch is probably the UCL Refectory. Other UCL shops and cafés are indicated on the map above. The main UCL Union building is at the corner of Gower Place and Gordon Street, adjacent to the Physics department. There are many shops, pubs, cafés and restaurants in the vicinity of Tottenham Court Road to the west or Euston station to the north. For example, there are many restaurants in Charlotte Street to the west and Drummond Street to the north. Branches of Sainsbury's and Tesco supermarkets are located on Tottenham Court Road close to the Warren Street tube station. Take-away food can be eaten in the Cloisters or in the Haldane Room. The nearest pub is the Jeremy Bentham on University Street.
